

Connecting Youth to Opportunity

A RESOURCE MAP OF THE DISTRICT'S DISCONNECTED YOUTH DOLLARS

INTRODUCTION

Tracking the funding streams that exist to support disconnected youth is a complicated endeavor. This reality is due in large part to the ages encompassed within the term “youth”. Whereas the term children typically encompasses individuals up to age 18 and the term adult typically captures individuals over 18, the term youth includes age ranges within both brackets, ages 16-24. Functionally, this means that services for “youth” exist in both the child and adult serving sectors.

The funding streams that support the programs and services accessible to currently disconnected young people in the District mostly fall within three budget clusters: 1) Workforce Development 2) Education 3) Human Services 4) Other. Some of the funding streams and programs listed serve only youth and others serve a mix of children, youth and traditional adult populations. It should be noted that while most reported funding is FY’12 Actual reported spending, there were areas that significantly altered their programming structure in FY’13 or did not exist before FY’13. To the best of our ability we have tried to include these changes or include the most up-to-date information.

WORKFORCE DEVELOPMENT

PROGRAM: OUT-OF-SCHOOL YOUTH

Funding: FY'12 Allocated $1,708,141 Federal Workforce Investment Act (WIA) Out-of-School Youth Formula Funds.

Program Administrator: The Department of Employment Services (DOES) is responsible for program monitoring and program administration in concert with the District's Workforce Investment Council (WIC) that approves grantees.

Grantees/Contractors: In FY'12 the District provided grants to YWCA of the National Capital Area, Opportunities Industrialization Center, Synergistic Inc., Latin American Youth Center, Citiwide Computer Training Center, Covenant House Washington and Friends of Carter Baron to operate the Out-of-School Youth Program. FY'13 Grantees Include: Academy of Hope, Covenant House Washington, Latin American Youth Center and YWCA of the National Capital Area to provide services to young people.

Program Description: The Out-of-School Program provides skills workshops, career awareness and work readiness modules, basic education, GED preparation and basic computer training, as well as vocational skills training. Training is provided in the following areas: Construction Trades, Emergency Medical Technology, Hospitality, Education and Information Technology, including Website Development. This is a year-round program that serves young adults, ages 16-21 who are no longer attending secondary or post-secondary school.

Eligibility: Low income youth ages 16-21 who meet at least one of the following barriers to employment: 1) School dropout; 2) Basic skills deficient (individuals that have English, writing or computing skills at or below the 8th grade level); 3) Pregnant or parenting; 4) Homeless, runaway, or foster child; 5) Offenders; and 6) Individuals (including a youth with a disability) who require additional assistance to complete an educational program, or to secure and hold employment.

PROGRAM: ADULT JOB TRAINING

The Adult Job Training Program serves both youth and adults. Due to data collection limitations on the cost differences between programs and the rate at which youth utilize programming, the ability to ascertain youth ages 18-24 spending was compromised. As a result this section provides program descriptions but not funding detail. For additional information on the Adult Job Training Program, please reference the Workforce Development in the District of Columbia: Resource Map compiled by the DC Fiscal Policy Institute.

Local job training funds cover a range of programs and services including: Transitional Employment Program and Locally Funded ITAs.

Funding: Federal Workforce Investment Act (WIA) Adult Formula Funds and Local Adult Job Training Funds.

Program Administrator: DOES is responsible for the administration and monitoring of both local and federal funds. The WIC works in concert with DOES to oversee the American Jobs Centers (One Stops) and certify Individual Training Account (ITA) providers that utilize federal funds.

Grantees/Contractors: DOES currently uses a mix of direct service through the American Job Centers and contractors through other programs to operate its adult workforce development portfolio.

Program Description: Federal funds cover services under the following programs being accessed by youth ages 18-24:

Wagner-Peyser Program

Provides a variety of employment-related services including but not limited to job search assistance, job referral, placement assistance for job seekers, reemployment services to unemployment insurance claimants and recruitment services to employers with job openings. Services are provided in one of three modes of delivery approaches: self-service, facilitated self-help services and staff-assisted service.

Workforce Investment Act (WIA)

Adult Program: Provides employment and training services through a network of American Job Centers at three broad levels to job seeker customers: core, intensive and training.

Office of Apprenticeship Information and Training Programs and Services

Provides apprenticeship training and recruitment services in a range of fields.

Youth Served In All Programs: According to the WIC between July 1, 2011 and June 30, 2012 16,161 “adults” accessed WIA services, including 1,862 who received staff-assisted services. It is not possible to ascertain the exact number of youth served due to the way in which ages are tracked through the WIC. However during that period at minimum 172 youth and at maximum 582 youth received services. It is important to note however that the upper band includes participants as old as 29 years of age.

- Ages 14-18: 27 (1.4%)
- Ages 19-21: 145 (7.8%)
- Ages 22-29: 410 (22%)
- Ages 30-39: 346 (18.6%)
- Ages 40-54: 670 (36%)
- Ages 55 and over: 264 (14.2%)

Eligibility: Adults age 18 and up. An age breakdown of individuals who utilized local adult job training funds is currently unavailable.

PROGRAM: SUMMER YOUTH EMPLOYMENT

Funding: FY'12 Actual $11,564,000 Local Funds.

Program Administrator: DOES is responsible for the administration and monitoring of the Summer Youth Employment Program (SYEP), but does work in conjunction with the Children Youth Investment Trust Corporation (CYITC) for younger (under 16 years of age) youth programming.

Grantees/Contractors: DOES partners with a wide range of government agencies, nonprofits, local businesses and schools to execute the program during 6 weeks of the summer.

Program Description: SYEP is a locally funded program that provides District youth with enriching and constructive summer work experiences through subsidized six-week placements in the private and government sectors. SYEP serves a wide swath of the youth population due to its size and popularity and while the program is short term in nature, DOES has recognized the value of SYEP in serving as a referral source/first point of contact for youth who are out-of-school and out-of-work.

Eligibility: District youth ages 14-21.

PROGRAM: PATHWAYS FOR YOUNG ADULTS

Funding: FY'12 Allocated $2,987,023 Local Funds (Year-Round Youth Job Training is the designator).

Program Administrator: DOES in partnership with the Community College of the District of Columbia.

Grantees/Contractors: DOES provides direct services for Pathways for Young Adults (PYAP) in conjunction with the UDC Community College, which offers the credentialing portion of the program through its Workforce Development and Lifelong Learning Division.

Program Description: The Pathways for Young Adults Program is designed to assist out-of-school and out-of-work District residents ages 18-24 by combining occupational training, life skills development and work readiness instruction to connect them back to the world of work successfully. The four areas of occupational training include allied health, hospitality, culinary & tourism, construction property management and basic IT/Admin.

Eligibility: Youth ages 18-24 in need of a workforce credential.

EDUCATION

PROGRAM: TRADITIONAL AND ALTERNATIVE

Funding: Local Education Funds allocated to Local Education Agencies via the Uniform Per Student Funding Formula (UPSFF). Given the complexity in determining specific school budgets due to the various populations served, this analysis recognizes that including the full budget mark would be misleading. As such this narrative focuses on the specific programming provided that is known to target Disconnected Youth with an overview of the UPSFF.

Program Administrator: Office of the State Superintendent for Education in concert with DC Public Schools and DC Public Charter Schools.

Grantees/Contractors: There are many schools within the District of Columbia serving all ages 3 and up. Schools that serve significant numbers of disconnected youth ages 16-24 include:

District of Columbia Public Schools (DCPS)

Luke C. Moore High School, Ballou STAY, Roosevelt STAY and Twilight Programs at District of Columbia Public Schools (DCPS) High Schools.

DC Public Charter Schools (PCS)

The Next Step PCS, Maya Angelou Young Adult Learning Center PCS, YouthBuild PCS and Latin American Youth Center Career Academy PCS.

The Carlos Rosario PCS “adult” education services programming is also funded through the UPSFF for ages 16+, however, the extent to which these programs are currently being utilized by the 16-24 year old population compared to traditional adult learners is currently unknown.

Program Description: Program models vary by school, however, at present none of the “adult” serving charter schools offer a high school diploma. Instead these programs offer GED preparation services and often occupational training. Both DCPS and the public charter schools are funded on the basis of their October audited enrollment counts. Charter schools serving youth over age 18 – who do not have an Individualized Education Program (IEP) – receive the “adult” per-pupil allocation under the Uniform Per Student Funding Formula (UPSFF). Charter schools serving youth under age 18 receive the traditional “high school” per-pupil allocation under the UPSFF. The Proposed UPSFF Weighting Designations is on page 7. Disconnected youth can access traditional high school (if they are under the age of 19 without an IEP, or under the age of 23 with certain IEP accommodations), public alternative schools and adult charter schools via walk-in, transfer or referral. Current and former DCPS students age 21 and under may utilize the DCPS Office of Youth Engagement for a referral.

PROGRAM: POST-SECONDARY EDUCATION

Similarly to the Adult Job Training program, the University of the District of Columbia (UDC) and the University of the District of Columbia Community College (UDC-CC) blend various funding streams to provide multiple programs that serve, among others, this population. Due to a lack of information on the number of youth vs. adults served, budget and participant information was not broken down to reflect different utilization rates.
